

at the Social on Jan 2nd where we were the happy guests of Mrs Franklin, after we had heard from Mrs Prentiss a sparkling account of her travels in Canada for the International Congress, our hostess gave us a talk on the beginnings of the P.N.E.U. & her friendship with Mrs Mason.

It was in 1892 that a young mother ^{came across the Parents Review (when having the work that)} came across the Parents Review (when having the work that) Mrs Mason, she wrote to Mrs Whittaker Thompson - The Onion had already been printed also the D.R. - the Rock Magazine which was to be "helpful to young mothers". Mrs Franklin ^{was} so enthusiastic about Mrs. Mason that she wrote to her asking for use my call or me at any time - She was seen from the window by Mrs Mason "a young figure in a Holland dress walking up the avenue". Thus began a friendship for life - Mrs Franklin, a young mother becoming the Cheek, disciple of the eager educationist. They wrote to me another almost every day. Miss Mason's letters were full not only of directions but of humor & wisdom. At that time Miss Mason was not very young but she was active, & she retained her youthful spirit into old age. ("Story of cork," "Remarks about food" - cork dismissed?)

Miss Mason went daily for drives & on these she nearly always found wild flowers or noticed interesting birds. She had lunch with the students & talked with them of her discoveries. Thus -

At that time Miss Mason gave lectures on her methods of education. She sat alone also & thought deeply about children & their needs. She had a deep love for children & respect for them as persons. In this she was a pioneer. The personality of children had not before been acknowledged & respected in this way. The groups of young parents in P.N.S.C. grew to unchanged wisdom

• influences - Mrs Franklin wrote constantly to one another - More members joining
• the P.N.S.C. grew in importance.

Many famous & interesting people sought at Mrs Mason - Rudyard Kipling used them at Torquay. (Originator of Scott movement --) Mrs Robert Bridges introduced beautiful handwriting copies - Musical appreciation was introduced to the programme by Mrs Howard Glover. She was among the first to realize that it was not sufficient to teach children to play a little on some one instrument, but that they should have the opportunity of hearing beautiful music & learning to understand it! Her son son Mr Cedric Glover loved music from babyhood & Mrs Glover played to him regularly.

When he was 2 1/2 Mrs Mason was present his mother asked him "what shall I play?" he opened the music of Wagner! Mrs Mason then asked Mrs Glover to organize the programme.

for musical appreciations & the study Term by term of the works & lives of the Composers -

Conferences were arranged, including special ones for children, at the first at Wincheslly. The second at Whetton. Mr. Household the Director of State Education (?) for Gloucestershire introduced P.U.S. into the Caxmille Schools. was able to prove that these children could appreciate many great books as well as the children from middle class homes. This was an intense joy to Miss Mason.

Tour in America - Founder of Dalton

Death has carried away yet another member of the P.N.E.U. Executive and of the Ambleside Council.

We shall all miss Mrs. Clement Parsons from among our midst. Her innate diffidence prevented her from making herself very vocal at Committee meetings, but the sense of her ~~helpless~~ understanding of and sympathy with all Miss Mason and her followers stood for made her a most valuable member and, by her advice before and after the meetings, she contributed much wisdom which her colleagues greatly valued.

She followed the introduction of P.N.E.U. methods into the Primary schools of Gloucestershire with the greatest interest and helped to introduce them into the schools in her neighbourhood and greatly influenced these schools by her own joy in literature and her readings to the children. Her management of the village lending library, which she conducted with untiring energy and regularity, will not soon be forgotten.

Her lectures were marked by wit and grace, and charming literary style. Almost the first one, given in London, dealt with the ugliness of the food in the ordinary middle-class household. Her last delightful article in "Life & Letters" on "Children's Bread" has the sparkle and the satire which we associate with her pen.

She was generous in lecturing to P.N.E.U. audiences and the B.B.C. made her known to the world as an authority on Mrs. Siddons. She contributed not infrequently to our pages(Miss Kitching please insert titles of articles.)

and her list of "Recommended Gift Books for Children" has had three editions and is bought at all Conferences by many.

Her homes in London and in Worcestershire were real homes, characterized by hospitality, friendliness, thought and beauty. Those who were privileged to call her friend will miss her until they too are called.
